

Interlocked stars with rotation

By Xavier Cormier

My drawing represents a pattern of 6-pointed stars interlocking one inside the other and rotated by a constant angle of rotation with respect to its previous one.

The vertices of each interlocking star touch the branches of the preceding star.

The colors are put with Paint software on Windows.

This pattern is created by my maplet found on Maple Application Center at :

<https://fr.maplesoft.com/Applications/Detail.aspx?id=154588>